My Dear Friends,

As each moment of life at Felician College evolves, I become more enthralled with the goodness, competence, professionalism, and compassion I see, I hear, and I experience everyday in every way. My hopes and dreams for Felician were and always will be far reaching. Fortunately, given the extraordinary College Community I have the privilege to lead, my expectations are not only being embraced, they are being fulfilled.

Institutional integrity reigns supreme. We are who we say we are. Fiscal viability is escalating. Students always come first. Franciscan values define our way of life. The centrality of student learning remains paramount. And, seeking the highest good through a love for learning, a desire for God and service to others is and always will be our enduring purpose. God is good and the best is yet to come. In the meantime, the following brief scenario captures the moment.

• 2,200 students chose to come learn with us. 407 students received diplomas. And, yes, the numbers reflect all-time highs.
• Felician College was named to the 2007 President’s Higher Education Honor Roll. This distinction from the highest levels of the Federal Government recognizes a college’s leadership in helping to build a culture of service and civic engagement on campus and in the nation.
• A very active Franciscan Task Force engaged the entire College Community in an off-campus retreat. Faculty and staff were organized into four mixed groups, each of which participated in its own retreat day. The total experience resulted in 99% participation, a campus-wide endorsement of Franciscan values, and a unanimous call for a repeat performance.
• The Felician NGO (non-governmental organization) U.N. Interns coordinated an impressive “Climate Control Program” at the United Nations. Students from prestigious universities such as Harvard, Princeton, and Fordham participated under the aegis of Felician College.
• The Division of Teacher Education received National Accreditation and a very positive endorsement from TEAC, the Teacher Education Accreditation Council.
• Felician College Teacher Education majors received a 100% pass rate on the Praxis Examination and the Felician College Master of Science in Nursing online majors continue to earn a 100% pass rate on the National Certification Examination.

• A major “Academic Convocation” was re-introduced during which the President of St. Bonaventure University received an Honorary Doctorate, a Felician College faculty member received an award for Teaching Excellence, and all Felician College Dean’s List students were officially celebrated.
• In response to the Vatican invitation to participate in “Centesimum Annus,” Felician College hosted a community-wide Panel Discussion on “Social Action and Spirituality in the Workplace.”
• Academic support is stronger than ever particularly through the establishment of a very successful Freshman Year Experience Program.
• Given the changes in student demographics, Felician College introduced a Division of Off-Campus Services. This new strategic initiative is all about generating major full-time efforts to establish active partnerships with community colleges, businesses, and hospitals throughout the State.
• The RN/BSN Fast Track Program is now being offered at Monmouth Medical Center, Hoboken University Medical Center, East Orange General Hospital, and on campus.
• New Graduate Programs in Nursing Education and School Principalship are in the making.
• 1,500 students took a combination of fully online and/or e-companion courses.
• Smart classrooms and wireless access are becoming the norm. And, the library is positioning itself as a virtual destination.
• Faculty engagement in the Scholarship of Teaching and Learning remains outstanding. Global presentations, including major art shows, are setting the pace.

• Felician College is about to share teaching and learning experiences in Criminal Justice and Special Education with the University of Naples, Italy.

• New agent contracts have been confirmed with Japan, Thailand, and Taiwan.

• The Rutherford Campus now includes a “St. Francis Quad,” attractive landscaping, an externally refurbished Castle, and “Spark of the Divine” awards to resident students who best reflect Franciscan values.

• The men’s Cross Country Team earned its fourth consecutive Central Atlantic Conference Championship.

• Thirteen scholar athletes received All-Conference Academic Honors.

• A concert choir was born.

• The implementation of a more robust electronic enterprise-wide administrative system is in high gear, and promises to bring “Student First” service to an even higher level.

• Institutional Advancement and Development keep raising the bar in annual fund raising, alumni participation, special events, and marketing.

• The Capital Campaign is gaining momentum.

• And, the fiscal year ending June 30, 2007, produced another slate of superior financial results. Revenue, total assets, total net assets and the increase in net assets all reached record highs. Financial ratios, reflecting these results, continue to demonstrate a pattern of escalating financial strength. These results were accomplished while Felician College continued to increase funding for strong academic programs and “Students First” services.

Hold tight, an even greater ever changing, never changing story is about to unravel. The entire College Community will soon plunge into a major Middle States Commission on Higher Education Self-Study. The decennial onsite visit is scheduled for 2010.

A new Strategic Plan is also about to unfold. Major efforts will be fixed on increasing enrollment, the assessment of student learning, adult education, off-campus programs and services, international education, the infusion of technology and learning, continued fiscal stability, and the advancement of a Major Capital Campaign. A successful Campaign will clearly energize growth and provide Felician College with the funding it needs to restore campus buildings, enrich student learning, increase student scholarships, and strengthen endowment.

The agenda is formidable but the prospect for success is certain. Felician College always has and always will rise to the occasion. Its resiliency comes from an inextricable commitment to a never changing mission. I hope the founding Felician Sisters are proud. Their belief in the innate potential of every student, the power of the human spirit, and the living presence of God in every person lives on.

My friends, I cannot ever begin to tell you what a powerful difference Felician College makes in the lives of its students. Miracles happen every day. And, you are an integral part of their making. Every name listed in this report is an endorsement of all of the above. Your belief in the ever-changing, never changing life of the College I hold so dear is irreplaceable. Thank you.

“Know that you are always in my heart and in my prayers.”

Sincerely,

Sister Theresa Mary Martin
President
Sister Theresa Mary Martin awarded the annual President’s Medallion to two recipients during “Christmas at Felician” in December 2007. The annual award acknowledges those who have gone above and beyond to serve the Felician Community. This year’s award recipients were Sister Mary Alan Barszczewski and Terrence M. Murphy. In addition, Dr. Charles Rooney Jr. received the President’s Medallion at an earlier ceremony in the fall.

A graduate of Felician College, Sister Alan embraced the ministry of education while earning her baccalaureate degree at La Salle University and graduate degree at Villanova University. Sister is a legend at St. Anthony High School in Jersey City, where she has served for 30 years – as teacher, mentor, administrator and athletic director. Working with Sister Mary Felicia and renowned basketball coach Bob Hurley, Sister has helped guide this inner city basketball team to consistent national basketball championships. Her accomplishments, including a victory over liver cancer, are slated to become a movie in the near future.

Terrence Murphy has worked at Wakefern Food Corporation for the past 18 years and he is currently serving as the Category Manager for Wakefern/Shoprite. As co-chairperson of the annual Felician College Golf Classic, he has committed his time and talents to work with the Felician development staff to expand the event and raise more money for the scholarship fund each and every year. Murphy earned his baccalaureate degree in computer science at Kean University. He and his wife, Laura, reside in Branchburg, New Jersey, where they are both involved in community service.

Dr. Charles Rooney Jr. has been at Felician College for almost 33 years, starting as an associate professor of English. Now serving as Senior Executive Vice President, Rooney utilizes his writing, technical and financial skills to tackle college-wide administrative projects such as the assessment by the Middle States Commission on Higher Education, bond issues, information technology, state and federal regulations and grant writing. He earned his baccalaureate degree at Fordham University and doctoral degree at George Washington University. While studying for his doctorate in Washington, D.C. in 1962, Rooney helped train the first Peace Corp volunteers under the direction of Robert Sargent Shriver.
The religious landscape in the United States has changed radically in the past 40 years, which presents new challenges and opportunities for open dialogue between contemporary Christians and non-Christians. Father Elias D. Mallon, who is engaged in issues of interreligious cooperation at the United Nations through Franciscans International, recently spoke at Felician College about his focus on Muslim and Christian dialogue.

Although it is difficult to obtain exact census figures, it is estimated that 4 million to 8 million Muslims live in the U.S. today. Mallon explained that both Muslims and Christians have a history of victimhood and aggression, and that each sees themselves as the victim. “We must do more than simply tolerate each other,” advises Mallon. “We must reduce misunderstanding … and see ourselves as others see us.”

Interreligious dialogue has been part of the life and ministry of the Catholic Church for centuries. In an extremely rare encounter during the Fifth Crusade in 1219, St. Francis walked into a Muslim camp to personally meet with the Sultan of Egypt and they became friends. Mallon believes that conflict transformation and peace building is a responsibility that Catholics must continue to share today in our changing interreligious world. The presentation marked the opening of the spring semester at Felician College.

Elias D. Mallon SA, of the Friars of the Atonement, has been a member of the Roman Catholic-Muslim Dialogue of the Archdiocese of New York for the past 20 years and is the author of several articles on Islam. He did his theological studies at the Catholic University of America, where he also earned his doctorate in Near Eastern Languages. Mallon has served as the director of the Graymoor Ecumenical and Interreligious Institute.

New Center Reflects the Spirit of St. Francis

After years of planning, the dream of creating a Franciscan Center at Felician College is becoming a reality. The Center is dedicated to promoting the Franciscan and Felician identities by sponsoring activities and opportunities that bring Franciscan values to bear on local and global issues such as peacemaking, social justice and interfaith dialogue.

“The Center seeks to be a catalyst and resource for the study of Saints Francis and Clare along with other key Franciscan figures and the unique values stemming from the rich tradition of the Felician Sisters,” explains Brother Kevin Smith, professor of religious studies and director of the Center. During the 2007-2008 academic year, the Center hosted faculty/staff retreats, Franciscan Heritage Week activities in October and an April seminar on transformational leadership.

In addition, the Center is in the process of forming a Blessed Mary Angela Fraternity of the Secular Franciscan Order. The Order is a Catholic order of lay people who strive to live the Gospel of Jesus Christ in their daily lives based on the guidelines set forth by St. Francis of Assisi. For more information about the Center and its programs, please e-mail franciscancenter@felician.edu.
Spark of the Month

Every month, resident assistants (RAs) nominate resident students who follow in the footsteps of St. Francis by creating a caring community and living Franciscan values every day. Congratulations to the first two students selected to receive the “Spark of the Month” award – Devon Young and Tiffany Crespo.

Nominated by RA Derell Thomas, Young is a role model and inspiration to his peers. A freshman with a 3.5 GPA, Young is active in community service and leads the Felician basketball team in scoring this year.

Crespo is a sophomore education major who was nominated by RA Allyson Castelli for her kindness, generosity and patience. An advocate for resident students, Crespo often steps out of her comfort zone to help others and develop new organizations on campus.

Amanda Bartee has been selected for a Minority Academic Careers (MAC) Program Fellowship. Created by the state of New Jersey in 1985, the scholarship provides financial and programmatic assistance to economically disadvantaged New Jersey residents who have expressed an interest in pursuing academic careers. The MAC Program is overseen by the New Jersey Commission on Higher Education and is administered by the College of Saint Elizabeth.

Nursing students Sylvia Larysz, Monika O’Neill and Woiletta Wieczorek have been selected as recipients of the Michael J. Kosloski Foundation Scholarship at Felician College. The award honors the memory of Michael Kosloski, who was very much committed to promoting his Polish heritage and assisting people of Polish ethnicity. The scholarship offers financial assistance to students of Polish descent who are studying to become attorneys and medical doctors.

Silvana Rivas will receive a scholarship from the Hispanic Business Council Scholarship Foundation of New Jersey.

Recipients must maintain a 3.0 GPA and complete 80 hours of community service between June 2008 and June 2009. In addition, the Scholarship Foundation is awarding a $1,000 book stipend to Felician student Maria Rosa.

If you are interested in creating a scholarship for Felician College students, please contact Karen DiMaria in the Office of Institutional Advance at (201) 355-1305.

Felician Honored for Distinguished Community Service

- The Corporation for National and Community Service named Felician College to the President’s Higher Education Community Service Honor Roll for exemplary service efforts and service to disadvantaged youth. Launched in 2006, the Community Service Honor Roll is the highest federal recognition a school can achieve for its commitment to service learning and civic engagement. Honorees for the award were chosen based on a series of selection factors including scope and innovativeness of service projects, percentage of student participation in service activities, incentives for service, and the extent to which the school offers academic service-learning courses.

The Honor Roll is jointly sponsored by the Corporation, through its Learn and Serve America program, and the Department of Education, the Department of Housing and Urban Development, USA Freedom Corps, and the President’s Council on Service and Civic Participation.

- Dr. Beth Castiglia has been promoted to Dean of the Division of Business and Management Sciences at Felician College. She is responsible for managing academic quality control for the business division and preparing the division for upcoming accreditations by the International Assembly for Collegiate Business Education (IACBE) and the Middle States Commission on Higher Education. Castiglia has numerous years experience as an economic research analyst for Goldman Sachs and Company and has previously served as chair and associate dean of the business division. She holds a bachelor’s degree in economics from St. Peter’s College, a master’s degree in economics from Pace University, and a doctoral degree in applied management and decisions sciences from Walden University.

- Resident Assistants (RAs) from the residence halls organized a food and clothing drive in the fall semester to collect much needed items for a New Jersey soup kitchen and the Midnight Runs for the Homeless in New York City.

- Spin to Win

Nursing student Bill Onieal hit the jackpot on the TV game show “Wheel of Fortune” in December – he won $60,500 in cash and a trip to Hawaii! Here are a few behind-the-scenes memories from Onieal’s audition to his exciting final minutes on the show:

- Onieal was selected to audition in New York City with 200 people – only 24 passed the audition exam.
- Two weeks before the taping, Onieal practiced for the show by doing word puzzles every day for four hours.
- It takes two hours to fill out the legal paperwork necessary to compete on the show.
- The platform behind the wheel moves up and down so that all contestants look about the same height and have the proper leverage over the wheel to allow for maximum spinning capacity.
- The wheel weighs about 4,000 pounds, and when you spin the wheel, it feels like 4,000 pounds!
- When the show is over and you have won “big money” and a trip, don’t forget to sit down and put your head between your knees so you don’t pass out! Congratulations Bill!
Creating Caring and Compassionate Teachers

Classes, workshops, student teaching and special events keep students in the Division of Teacher Education striving and achieving during the academic calendar. Here are a few highlights from recent months:

Candlelight Ceremony
Pre-service teachers and graduating seniors were honored at the December Candlelight Ceremony in the Immaculate Conception Chapel. “You are now embarking on an incredible journey,” remarked Sister Theresa Mary Martin, president of Felician College.

“You have the opportunity to be ‘sparks of the divine’ in the lives of all your students. This vocation is one of the most admirable I can think of.” The Dr. Dennis Connors Award for Excellence in Student Teaching was presented to Christine Banas, Arianna Beam, Christina Engel and Wilhelmina Ostag.

Music with a Message
Bob Messano, also known as “Guitar Bob”, presented a workshop for teacher education students to show them how to use music to meet important goals for children’s personal development and social benefit. An adjunct instructor in the division, Messano performs and records original songs for children.

A New Understanding
Instructor John Burnyk explains to teacher education students how to maneuver in a wheelchair to gain an understanding of the environmental and social differences that students in their classrooms may experience. During the simulation, students in ED 410 Assistive Technology attempted to wash their hands, drink from a fountain, and enter a restroom while in a wheelchair.

The women’s soccer team continues to show growth and improvement. Playing in two less games than the previous year, Felician scored 10 more goals. Eleven team members scored at least once. Backed by goalkeeper Amanda Musarra, the defense cut its goals-against average by nearly two full goals. The Golden Falcons’ 5-12-1 won-lost-tied record was two wins better than 2006, and the team moved up two slots in the Central Atlantic Collegiate Conference standings (3-8).

Junior Lindsey Petry was a first-team all-league selection. Petry registered two hat tricks and led the Golden Falcons in scoring with nine goals and four assists. Freshman D.J. Jacobowitz had six goals and four assists, and junior Jenna Krowl dished out a team-high five assists.

The men’s soccer team began the 2007 season with energetic first-year head coach Patrick Snyder at the helm. Snyder and the Golden Falcons struggled to a frustrating 0-13-2 showing with five games remaining. Junior Peter Snihur stole the show on Senior Day, scoring the game-winning goal with two seconds left in regulation for a 1-0 Golden Falcon victory.

Felician went on to win its next two games and stayed alive in the CACC playoff race. Needing a win in its final match against Caldwell at home, the Golden Falcons and Cougars played to an exciting, back and forth, 0-0 draw with junior goalkeeper Paulo DosSantos making several outstanding saves. Felician (3-14-3, 2-5-2 CACC) was eliminated from playoff contention the next day by other league results.

Junior defender Lukas Fraczek was elected to his third consecutive all-conference team, and DosSantos put up 141 saves, one of the highest totals in school history. Junior Boris Shabova and senior Armin Tandir each scored five goals with two assists for the team scoring lead.

Junior Amanda Scibetta, who entered the season as the defending CACC Runner of the Year, earned her third consecutive all-conference award by finishing seventh at the 2007 league championship on October 20. Felician claimed two other all-league runners: Freshman Toni Fowler, who finished sixth, and classmate Sarah Root, who was 14th. The Golden Falcons finished second as a team for the third straight season.

Scibetta spent the entire regular season as Felician’s No. 1 runner before being caught by Fowler at the conference meet. They were the only two Golden Falcons to complete a 5,000-meter race in fewer than 20 minutes. The team finished second in three races, all at the CACC course, Belmont Plateau, in Philadelphia. Other consistent scorers were seniors Melissa Barroqueiro and Megan Williams and sophomore Sophia Chick.
MEN’S CROSS-COUNTRY

Felician enjoyed its most dominating performance to date at the 2007 Central Atlantic Collegiate Conference Championship. All seven runners that coach John Brennan entered into the event attained all-CACC status — a league record. With that result, Felician easily won the team championship for the fourth consecutive year.

The Golden Falcons also swept the individual awards. Senior Paul Chegwidden set a meet record in being named 2007 CACC Runner of the Year, winning the race with an 8,000-meter time of 26:35. Freshman Jay Rodgers earned Rookie of the Year honors by finishing third overall in 27:38. Brennan was voted by his peers to his fourth straight Coach of the Year award.

Also earning all-CACC honors for Felician were seniors Mike Burghoffer and Brian McDonnell, junior Alex Wright, sophomore Brad Schepise, and freshman Brenden Krewer.

The regular season was highlighted by a team victory in the Philly Metro Small College Invitational, held at the CACC Championship course, Belmont Plateau, on September 22. The Golden Falcons finished first out of 19 schools and Chegwidden won the race with a 27:03 for 8K. Felician finished the season with a 15th place team finish at the NCAA East Regionals.

VOLLEYBALL

Under first-year head coach Alan Clements, the Felician volleyball team went on a late-season hot streak to reach the CACC playoffs for the first time in the four-year history of the program. The Golden Falcons won three of their last four conference matches — their first victories ever over Dominican College, Nyack College, and Wilmington University — to finish in fourth place in the CACC North Division at 6-11.

While the team was eliminated in the quarterfinals by Bloomfield College, its 6-23 record represented the most victories in school history, and several other firsts were established. Sophomore Nicole Degenhardt was the program’s first player to be voted all-conference (second-team) as well as its first all-CACC Tournament honoree, and, late in the season, she reached the 1,000-assist plateau for her career. In the regular-season’s final week, senior Keisha Milstrey became the school’s first-ever CACC Volleyball Player of the Week.

Senior Dee Dee Smith played her first season of collegiate volleyball and set a school record for attack percentage (.169). Smith and Milstrey combined for more than two-thirds of the team’s kills, allowing Degenhardt to demolish her own record for single-season assists with 793.

In today’s era of major college coaches offering scholarships to middle school students and AAU and club teams gaining larger influence with younger athletes, there still exist stories like that of Felician sophomore Jeff Calabrese.

Calabrese earned a partial baseball scholarship at Felician despite never playing at the varsity high school level. A right-handed pitcher, he rewarded head coach Chris Langan’s faith by earning all-conference honors after his freshman season.

A Freehold resident, Calabrese attended the exclusive private Christian Brothers Academy (CBA) in Lincroft. He made the freshman team his first year and the junior varsity squad as a sophomore, but was then unexpectedly cut as a junior. He was not ready to giving up playing, however.

“I believed, with the help of my parents and friends, that you shouldn’t give up on something you truly love,” Calabrese said. “Baseball was a big part of my life and I wasn’t going to allow someone to take that away from me.”

In addition to joining an adult summer league, he signed up for lessons at the Play Ball Baseball Academy in Marlboro, and as he felt improvement, began to attend 2-3 times per week. Play Ball is owned by Langan and his twin brother and assistant coach, Steve. Both sides became almost immediately intrigued by the other.

“Jeff’s talent was raw, but he made things look really easy and had a loose, live, fresh arm,” Chris Langan said. “I just couldn’t imagine a kid with this potential could be cut from a high school program. I felt very strongly that he could pitch for me in college and that his best baseball was still ahead of him.”

Calabrese was once again cut as a senior at CBA, but by then he was already on the roster of an AAU summer team coached by Felician graduate John Tingsos. Soon thereafter, he signed a letter of intent to pitch for the Golden Falcons.

“The Langans watched me grow as a person and a player and gave me an opportunity to prove myself at the next level,” Calabrese said. “The friendship we formed and friendships with future teammates had a lot to do with attending Felician. I believed that our team could potentially be very good and have a good time doing it.”

His 2007 success was immediate. He began the season as a set-up man to incumbent closer Anthony Spina, and in his first seven appearances, posted a 3-1 record, a 0.69 earned-run average, and a .073 opponent batting average. Featuring a fastball topping at 90 miles per hour and a hard split-finger fastball, he was the first Central Atlantic Collegiate Conference Rookie of the Week of the season. He earned his first save in his eighth game, on March 14 at Dowling College, and by mid-season, he and Spina had swapped roles.

Calabrese had a few rough outings, but finished the season third in the CACC in appearances and tied for first with four saves. In 23 games he went 4-1 with a 3.41 ERA, and struck out 31 batters in 31 2/3 innings. He was the only relief pitcher named to the all-CACC first team.

“Being named all-conference was one of the happiest moments of my life,” said the business administration major. “I couldn’t believe it was only three years ago when my high school coach told me I wouldn’t be able to participate in the upcoming season. I think I had a little more satisfaction knowing my route to the award was a little harder.”
Academic Convocation Focuses on Mission and Tradition

On a cold January evening, Dean’s List students from spring 2007 were warmly acknowledged for their academic achievements at the first formal Academic Convocation held at the College. Students, family and friends gathered in the John J. Breslin Theatre to celebrate the event, which was coordinated by the Office for Academic Affairs.

In addition to honoring the students, Sister Rosita Brennan, Vice President for Academic Affairs, presented the Faculty Excellence Award to Dr. Maria Vecchio, associate professor of history and director of the Honors Program. "I am truly honored to receive the Faculty Excellence Award, especially knowing that I have been chosen by my peers," said Vecchio. "After 23 years of teaching at Felician College, I am more delighted than ever to enter the classroom and work with our students. My day has special meaning because of them."

Sister Theresa Mary Martin presented an honorary Doctor of Humane Letters to Sister Margaret Carney, OSF, STD, president of St. Bonaventure University. A theologian and expert in Franciscan spirituality, Sister Margaret has done extensive research on Clare of Assisi, early Franciscan women, and the history of the Franciscan Third Order Regular.

New Agreements Provide the Keys to Success

Shifting demographics and new trends in higher education have created the demand for flexible adult education. Due to the high cost of education, more and more adult students are working full time while going to school to complete their degrees. Sister Theresa Mary Martin, president of Felician College, recognized the need to meet these students "half way," so she tasked Dr. William Morgan, founding dean of the business division, to create a new division to accommodate this growing educational life style.

The new Division of Off-Campus Services is partnering with community colleges, industry, and hospitals in New Jersey to bring Felician degree completion programs on-site to their facilities. Morgan and his staff are marketing the Felician “Centers of Excellence” in teacher education, business, nursing and criminal justice. Among the College’s current agreements are Raritan Valley Community College, Sussex County Community College, East Orange General Hospital and Monmouth Medical Center, with more opportunities on the horizon.

In addition to on-site programs, the Division will have an on-site presence at the community colleges to offer scheduling, registration and billing assistance to students in the program. “We offer a seamless transition to our degree completion programs. Our staff and program coordinators are on-site to interface the adult students with the rest of the College,” explains Morgan, who serves as dean of the Division of Off-Campus Services. “We are pleased to expand Felician College educational opportunities throughout the state of New Jersey.”
Sacred Places on Campus

Spiritual Spaces and Peaceful Places at Felician College

The life of a college student can be hectic – balancing classes, homework assignments, service to the community and employment. Fortunately, Felician College offers several quiet, spiritual places on campus where students, faculty and staff are invited to slow down and take a minute for reflection and prayer. As the Franciscan College of New Jersey, the ideals and teachings of Saints Francis and Clare of Assisi are woven into the daily lives of everyone on campus and serve as the inspiration for these sacred places.

In 1985, the Felician grounds at Lodi were dedicated as an official peace site through New Jersey Peace Action. Faculty, staff, students and Sisters gathered to celebrate the creation of a place of peace – a space made sacred by the spirit of the people who live and work at Felician. The idea of peace sites was developed by Louis Kousin, who believed that the sites created a positive way to establish a visual, vibrant presence where people congregate in peaceful pursuits. Located next to the Felician Sisters’ Chapel, the Peace Site includes a bench inscribed with the words: “May all who come here to pray, study, work, and celebrate go forth from this site bringing the Peace of Christ to their homes, communities, and our global families.”

The Elliott Terrace Garden on the Rutherford campus was inspired by St. Francis and his love of nature. This tranquil garden is located near one of the dormitories, where a statue of St. Francis beckons everyone to take a moment to reflect on God’s creations, especially “Brother Sun and Sister Moon.” There’s plenty of room to sit on the terrace to relax, study or simply enjoy the outdoors. With renewed emphasis on sustaining the environment, the garden is a reminder that we are all stewards of the earth. Each October, the Felician community gathers at the Garden with their pets for the annual Blessing of the Animals during Franciscan Heritage Week.

Students walking across the Quad at the Rutherford campus have the opportunity to stop and reflect at the Peace Pole. Erected on the 5th anniversary of the September 11 terrorist attacks, the Peace Pole is surrounded by benches where students pause to reflect on renewal, hope, peace and all good in the world. Franciscans are called upon to be peacemakers and the message on the Peace Pole is the same in any language – may peace prevail on earth.

A small chapel is located in the heart of each campus, where students and staff can attend Mass or pause for prayer and meditation during the day. An active campus ministry department fosters the spiritual and personal growth of Felician students through a variety of events.

As time goes by, students will move on and leave behind these sacred places that they passed every day on their way to classes. However, they will always carry with them the Catholic, Franciscan values that will continue to nourish the soul – respect for all creatures and the environment, peace and justice, service to others, and reverence for the dignity of everyone. When these beliefs are put into action, Felician students truly follow in the footsteps of St. Francis and St. Clare, and the sacred spaces will forever remain in their hearts.

The Quick Tale of an Interview

By Richard Fritzky

Over the past few months, I have had both the opportunity and pleasure of exploring the history of Felician College. I found myself wading through Sister Victoria’s archives and interviewing a wealth of contributors to the Felician story, both past and present. I am going to focus on one interview and one special woman in this article – Sister Mary Antonelle Chunka. Maybe because she so captures what the spirit of Felician is all about or because a rich nostalgia just oozes out of her or simply because she has this proclivity for hitting a nail right on the head.

She long taught elementary school and high school, both at Saint Anthony’s in Jersey City and Pope John in Sparta and while she left some deep seeded marks there, Felician College is her life’s story. Originally the Director of the College’s first Office of Public Relations and then the Director of Institutional Advancement and Development, she is today, while on leave to take care of her mother, the Vice President of Mission Integration.

Nostalgically recalling what the campus looked like in the early fifties, long before the Saddle River was re-engineered to make way for the new campus, she still sees the river that simply meandered through and the mill house and the huge pavilion and the days when animals were housed in barns and tended to daily by the Sisters. She sees the wheat stalks and corn husks and pumpkins and the apple trees and gardens and a land that provided both sustenance and balance for both the Sisters and the orphans then housed on the property by the order. She even hears the music from the pavilion that was lofted into the evening air on a Saturday night. Those were the days when even the Immaculate Conception Junior College couldn’t grant degrees, when it offered what was only a primary affiliation to the Catholic University of America and later to places like Seton Hall and Saint Peter’s. After being chartered by the state to issue associate’s degrees, Sister Antonelle recalls that it was Sister Hiltrude’s extensive courtship of Secretary Hollander of the New Jersey Department of Higher Education that finally resulted in the school being chartered as a four year institution with the privilege of granting bachelor’s degrees in liberal arts and teacher education.

“The road there was neither a straight line, nor was it a fair process,” said Sister Antonelle. “But we got there and the new College, Felician College, was dedicated in 1969. We rode against the wind and bucked a trend as all the other members of our once consortium of small Catholic junior colleges in northern New Jersey fell by the wayside. But not our Felician, which was built to last, with great love!

“I look back and think about it,” she added, “and recognize that it’s nothing less than a wonderful story, a glorious story, and that my life and that of my friends is in its telling.”

Rich Fritzky, former president of the Meadowlands Regional Chamber of Commerce, is a good friend of Felician College who is currently writing a history of the college. He is recovering from a catastrophic illness and making his way back into life.
Dr. Donald P. Casey, associate professor in philosophy and religious studies, delivered a lecture at Felician’s Socratic Discussion series entitled “Pope Benedict XVI and Conscience: Is the Pope a Platonist?”.

Dr. Anne DeGroot, assistant professor of teacher education, and Dr. Julie Good, associate dean in the Division of Teacher Education, presented “Different Strokes For Different Folks - Differentiating Instruction” at the November 2007 NJEA conference.

Dr. Dolores Henchy, professor of religious studies and chair of the graduate program in religious studies, served as an evaluator on an accreditation team for the Middle States Commission on Higher Education in November 2007 at Manor College in Jenkintown, Pennsylvania.

Margaret Vallone Gardineer, assistant professor of English, judged the high school finalists for non-fiction prose for the annual writing contest for the New Jersey Council of Teachers of English.

Sister Ann Therese Kelly, associate professor of art, traveled to Brooks, Maine, to give a retreat/workshop to a group of adults at the New Forest Institute (www.newforestinstitute.org). New Forest is a new organization devoted to protecting and improving the Earth, creating self-sustainable housing and rescuing forests.

Dr. Alberto LaCava, professor of computer science, was involved with a research project at the Department of Physics of Princeton University and a large team of international researchers. This project concerns the concentration of Ar-40 from underground sources (where is present at low levels) to produce liquid Ar-40 for multiple ton detectors that are being placed in a high mountain in Italy.

Dr. Carl Lane, professor of history, won the James Soltow Award for best article, “The Elimination of the National Debt in 1835 and the Meaning of Jacksonian Democracy,” published in “Essays in Economic and Business History” (April, 2007).

Daniela Schlüter, assistant professor of art, exhibited her work in the group show, “Kunst gegen Rechts” (Art Against Political Extremism and Racism). The show ran in November 2007 at the Kreishaus Borken, Germany.

Melissa MacAlpin, assistant professor of art, contributed to “WWIII,” an exhibit presented by gaia at Mana Fine Art in Jersey City. The show brings together 10 emerging artists from the New York/New Jersey area to participate in a six-week residency to discuss their work, protest, the cultural climate, and the history of art, war, feminism, and social change. Professor MacAlpin created a piece that explores her own relationship to war and the relationship her sister, a Navy veteran, has with war. In a series of 32 images, the sisters’ stories are intertwined.

“Prophet and Loss (Lalibela, Ethiopia)”, June-July 2005, oil on linen, 22”h x 18”w.

A solitary figure surveys Ethiopia’s highlands near the urban center of Lalibela. Ethiopia’s emperors adopted Christianity beginning in the 4th century and in the 12th century a series of astonishing churches were carved out of the landscape’s living rock. Residents of the region remain powerfully connected to their proud history, faith, and cultural heritage and yet vulnerable to the vicissitudes of drought that have ravaged their livelihood as farmers repeatedly in recent memory—obliging them to be dependent upon U.S. food aid.

Ard Berge, associate professor of art, had one of his paintings, “Prophet and Loss (Lalibela, Ethiopia),” featured in a recent group exhibition at Viridian Artists gallery in New York City’s Chelsea art district. Another painting, “A Manifestation of Destiny,” was part of the 31st Small Works Exhibition at New York University’s 80 Washington Square East Galleries.
In just seven years, Felician has created an outstanding virtual campus with both online graduate and undergraduate courses in art, education, religion, literature, business and nursing. Hundreds of students have transformed dreams to reality with the fully online Masters of Arts in Religious Education and Master of Science in Nursing, while others have benefited from several online courses to work toward a master’s degree in teacher education or an MBA.

A new Distance Learning Center opened recently in Kirby Hall to house the expanding programs that now include distance learning classes in nearly every discipline. “Many courses now have an e-Companion component or are hybrid courses,” explains Dr. Fahmi Abboushi, Director of Distance Learning. “Students experience the same depth of material and earn the same college credit as in a traditional classroom – designed and taught by the same faculty who teach on campus.”

As many college students completed their final exams and headed home for the Christmas holidays, students from the Student Government Office (SGO) at Felician College remained on campus to wrap and sort more than 2,000 toys and gifts that they collected for local children. The college’s annual toy drive benefits children of all ages from Project Youth Haven in Paterson, Shelter our Sisters in Hackensack, Catholic Family and Community Services Friendship Corner in Paterson, and local youth in Lodi and Rutherford. Congratulations to these students for their dedicated service and compassion.

Make Wine With Us

Alumni and their guests became winemakers for an evening as they learned to press, crush, bottle and label their own vintage blend of wine at the "Make Wine With Us" alumni event in October 2007. Everyone sampled wines and delicious hors d'oeuvres while they caught up on all the news of Felician College.

Mary Anne Serafin, 1980 graduate and alumni board member, enjoys the "hands on" approach to wine making!

Autumn Getaway

Alumni cruised to Bermuda for six relaxing days on the Royal Caribbean Explorer of the Seas in October. The College hosted private on-board receptions and informative presentations by faculty member Donna Rienzo, who discussed the history, culture and economics of Bermuda. Pictured at the farewell dinner are (standing left to right) Christine Hoffman, Donna Rienzo, Robert Walker, Lori Walker, Elizabeth Scheps, Elliott Scheps, and Paul Muro; (seated left to right) Malinda Logatto, Karen DiMaria, Haley Rienzo, Fred DiMaria, and Francine Muro; and (inset photo) Patrick Zaretski and Niccole Smith.

The Alumni Association sponsored the inaugural Student Leadership Dinner in February 2008. The dinner celebrated the commitment, service and inspiration of students who have assumed leadership roles within the Felician Community – through extracurricular activities, academics, athletics or student government.

"Breakfast with Santa" is an annual Christmas treat at Felician College, and Santa arrived right on schedule in December to the cheers of everyone at the event. Hosted by the Alumni Association, the event featured a continental buffet breakfast, plenty of kid-friendly activities and the chance for each child to visit with Santa!

While waiting for Santa to arrive, Savanna Kelly creates a gingerbread man at one of the craft tables.

Samantha Fallon, sophomore English major, paints a reindeer on the cheek of Nicolas Adamo.

Leadership Giving Reception

President Sister Theresa Mary Martin, the Felician College Board of Trustees and Council of Regents, along with the Office for Institutional Advancement, hosted the first Leadership Giving Appreciation Reception on the evening of June 20, 2007. Alumni, faculty, staff, parents, and friends were acknowledged for their unyielding generosity and overwhelming commitment to Felician College and its mission to provide a quality education, deeply rooted in Franciscan tradition, to every Felician College student.

This very special evening, honoring Felician College donors giving at the Leadership level, was held at the beautifully renovated Elliott Terrace Courtyard on the Rutherford Campus. The College was especially pleased to recognize the Demetrician family, who made the beautification of the Elliott Terrace Courtyard possible through a generous donation that included a magnificent sculpture of St. Francis. It was the perfect setting where guests enjoyed a delightful evening of fine music, exceptional cuisine, and an abundance of camaraderie.

Felician College Leadership donors share a strong commitment to strengthen academic excellence at the College. The example Leadership donors set through Annual Fund contributions inspires other alumni, parents, friends, faculty and staff, and local businesses and corporations to participate at this level. Leadership gifts, every year, are an investment in Felician College students.

The Second Annual Leadership Giving Appreciation Reception will be held on the evening of Thursday, June 19, 2008 on the Felician College Rutherford Campus. Details will soon follow.

We hope to see you there!

We are pleased to report that Annual Giving at Felician College is once again on the rise. Through the 2006-2007 Annual Fund Campaign, the College attained significant increases in all areas of annual giving from alumni, friends, faculty and staff, parents, corporations and foundations.

Strengthening the Annual Fund is vital to the College’s ability to carry out its mission, which includes providing a high quality education rich in Franciscan traditions. Intrinsic to the Felician College mission is instilling in every student the values of personal and professional integrity and caring and service to others through a Felician/Franciscan education.

Gifts to the Felician College Annual Fund provide the resources necessary for establishing campus programs that promote Franciscan core values such as respect, integrity, compassion, and service. We are so grateful to the many donors who have contributed not only to the success of the 2006-2007 Annual Fund Campaign, but also to the success of every Felician College student through their generosity.

Alumni, parents, friends, faculty and staff, corporations, local businesses and foundations continue to respond with enthusiasm to the fund-raising efforts by the Felician College Office for Institutional Advancement. The unwavering commitment, continued interest, and willingness to participate with a contribution – however large or small – are evidence of the love so many of you have for Felician College. Your trust in the Felician mission to inspire every student to seek the highest good through a love for learning, a respect for human dignity, and service to those in need, is critical to the growth of Felician College.

If you have not yet contributed to the 2007-2008 Annual Fund Campaign, we hope you will join our growing family of donors by forwarding a gift to the College before the fiscal year ends on June 30, 2008.

Alumni Annual Fund

Many, many thanks to the alumni who so thoughtfully contribute to the Annual Fund each year. Unrestricted and restricted gifts to the Annual Fund make it possible for Felician College to provide high quality academic programs in the Franciscan tradition that enable students to grow intellectually and spiritually. We are so very grateful to the following alumni for their financial support and for their expression of appreciation to Felician College for the education and spiritual enlightening they received during their Felician years.

REVERENCE
Parents

Parents of current and past Felician College students contribute each year to the Felician College Parent Fund. Since the inception of the Parent Fund just a few years ago, parents have been enthusiastically contributing each year through the Annual Fund fall and spring phonathons. During the 2006-2007 Annual Fund year, Felician College Parent Fund donors increased by 39%. The following Felician parents are proudly recognized for their generosity and support of the Parent Fund.

2007 Independent College Fund of New Jersey Contributors

Felician College continues to benefit from generous corporate and foundation support given through the Independent College Fund of New Jersey. Begun in 1953, the Fund makes a single, united annual request to corporations and foundations on behalf of the 14 member colleges. For 54 years, the Fund has continued to secure corporate financial support for the state’s independent colleges and to promote a greater understanding of the importance of maintaining the opportunity for choice between public and private education.

The Independent College Fund of New Jersey represents all of the state’s fully accredited, privately controlled colleges and universities, except those that are engaged primarily in religious studies. The following donors contributed to the Fund in calendar year 2007. Most gifts are allocated by formula, although a number are designated to specific institutions. Support in 2007 for independent higher education in New Jersey through the Fund totaled $1,252,216.25.
Planned Giving

Felician College expresses sincere appreciation for the foresight and generosity of its alumni and friends who so thoughtfully explore planned giving opportunities. Through bequests or life income plans, donors have options to transfer assets to the College in several ways so as not to deprive family members of necessary resources and funds. The following very special friends have included Felician College in their estate plans.

Endowed Scholarships

Endowed scholarships enable individual students to truly reach their highest potential personally, spiritually, academically and professionally through a Felician College education. Students benefiting from these scholarship gifts are awarded based on both academic merit and financial need. We gratefully acknowledge the following individuals and families responsible for their extraordinarily generous and lasting commitment to Felician College students through endowed scholarships.
