VISION STATEMENT
To be a pre-eminent Catholic Franciscan College where scholarship and the practice of teaching and learning place students first in the enduring quest for truth and the persistent pursuit of competence, character, and compassion.

MISSION STATEMENT
Felician is an independent co-educational Catholic Franciscan College founded and sponsored by the Felician Sisters to educate a diverse population of students within the framework of a liberal arts tradition. Its mission is to provide a full complement of learning experiences, reinforced with strong academic and student development programs designed to bring students to their highest potential and prepare them to meet the challenges of the new century with informed minds and understanding hearts. The enduring purpose of Felician College is to promote a love for learning, a desire for God, self-knowledge, service to others, and respect for all creation.

Under the leadership of Father Damian Colicchio, the Art Department and Felician College sponsored a 15-day tour of Italy last spring for students, faculty and staff. Students were able to take courses in art, Italian literature and/or Renaissance history while touring through Venice, Florence, Assisi, Capri, Sicily, Pompeii and Rome.
Dear Friends,

Felician College is all about People. People of Faith. People of Hope. People of Promise. People engaged in a never-ending quest for TRUTH and the enfleshment of an Enduring Purpose: to promote a love for learning and a desire for God.

Felician College is all about the fundamental values of Christian humanistic studies: insight, sensitivity, understanding, discipline, moral values, and the refinement of mind and heart.

Felician College is all about learner-centered teaching: the centrality of STUDENTS FIRST, the Franciscan expression of respect for others through service, and the dignity and ultimate destiny of every human being.

Such is the Felician College I have grown to love through the past 20 years. I have watched this fine institution evolve into a College of genuine significance, substance, and distinction. I have watched the thoughtful expansion of an outstanding, competent, totally committed faculty and staff. And, I have held fast to and will continue to hold fast to institutional integrity. You see, what we say we are, we are. And this is the truth … pure, simple, and meritorious.

Here is a brief profile of who we are and what we are becoming:

• Felician College currently enrolls 1800 commuter and residential men and women on two campuses and granted diplomas to 347 graduates (the largest class to date) last spring.

• The state of New Jersey recently approved the introduction of a graduate degree in Business Administration (MBA) and a baccalaureate degree in Communication Arts.

• Felician College now offers graduate programs in Business Administration, Teacher Education, Religious Studies (online) and Nursing (online), and more than 40 undergraduate majors in the liberal arts.

• The Commission on Collegiate Nursing (CCNE) re-accredited the online Felician College Master of Science Degree in Nursing Program for 10 years without a single recommendation.

• Felician was the first Catholic college in the country to offer a completely online Religious Studies Graduate Program.

• The Felician College accelerated cohort-based Business Management Degree Program enrolled its 40th cohort, including off-campus programs at United Parcel Service (UPS), Wachovia Bank, The Mutual Bank of New York, and The Federal Reserve Bank.

• Additional cohort-based learning continues to be introduced, such as a fast-track cohort-based Bachelor of Science in Nursing Program for registered nurses; a cohort-based Teacher Education Certificate Program at a rabbinical school; and an accelerated baccalaureate degree Program in Computer Information Systems with Security Assurance.

• The increasing number of cohort-based students has accelerated electronic interaction with the library by more than 50%.

• The number of students taking online courses increased 225%.

• Felician College Education majors received a 100% passing rate on the Praxis examination for three consecutive years.

• A very strong Student Support Program recently added a Center for Career Counseling to its existing Center for Academic Advising, Tutoring Network, Mentoring Program, and Writing Laboratory.

• Felician College developed an affiliation with Nihon University in Japan and is currently developing affiliations with Lublin University in Poland and Naples University in Italy.

• The Little Theatre on the Rutherford Campus is now state-of-the-art media and performance ready. A Theatre Arts concentration is in the making and Felician College will soon mount a radio station.

• New academic programs on the horizon include: graduate tracks in Health Management, Leadership, Nursing Education, Gerontology, and Hospice Care; the Master of Arts in Teaching; a stand-alone undergraduate degree in Criminal Justice; and K-12 Certification in Science, Social Science, and the Humanities.

• The Felician College NCAA Division II athletic program now includes basketball, soccer, and cross-country for men and women; baseball and golf for men; and softball and volleyball for women.
• The Men's Cross-Country Team earned the Central Atlantic Collegiate Conference (CACC) Championship for two consecutive years.

• Residence Life is becoming an enriching growth experience for body, mind, and spirit.

• A Vice President for Mission Integration was appointed to coordinate mission integration, strengthen campus-wide understanding of and commitment to Felician/Franciscan values, and increase campus-wide participation in volunteerism and service.

• The three Felician-sponsored institutions for Higher Education (Felician College, Madonna University, and Villa Maria College) are developing collaborative programs and events designed to clarify and mutually perpetuate a Felician/Franciscan charism on our campuses.

• In June 2005, a Five-Year Periodic Review Report was forwarded to the Middle States Commission on Higher Education and subsequently received glowing commendations.

• On December 15, 2005, Felician College dedicated the Main College Building on the Lodi Campus to Albin D. Obal, Chairman of the Felician College Board of Trustees and lifetime benefactor.

• And, most importantly, the 2004-2005 fiscal year net assets increased $4 million and the operating income exceeded $1 million for the third consecutive year. Felician College is following a carefully designed path of fiscal responsibility and strategic growth that can and will insure long-term financial viability.

Beyond all of the above, a two-year campus-wide collaborative effort produced a comprehensive Strategic Plan that conveys a shared vision, a strong sense of momentum, and is inextricably connected to the College budget. The plan endorses Excellence, Empowerment, and Expansion through five major initiatives designed to advance (1) the Felician, Franciscan Mission, (2) Students First, (3) Learner-Centered Teaching, (4) Enrollment Growth, and (5) Financial Strength.

Needless to say, enthusiasm prevails. As is evidenced above, each initiative is taking on a life of its own and there is more to come. Felician College is about to establish a Center for Spirituality, a Center for Wellness, Centers for Wireless Communication, additional online courses and programs, and IT training for administrators, faculty, and staff.

The College is also planning to introduce freshman and senior year experiences, expand student-centered learning, faculty development, the use of the academic library as a virtual destination, advance aggressive marketing programs, and enroll 2,200 students by the year 2009.

Felician College will simultaneously launch a Major Capital Campaign. Currently, Campaign priorities include major renovations in the residence halls and the campus gym, the additional restoration of the Iviswold Castle, and the enhancement of the College Endowment Fund.

I have no doubt that all of our initiatives will succeed because the Power of Love is invincible. We are about the business of “Living God’s Love” with and for our students. Your generosity demonstrates the same.

Yes, Felician College is all about People … my very competent, visionary senior administrators; a creative, scholarly faculty; a dedicated, professional staff; eager student learners; and an impressive host of generous friends.

I am deeply grateful to the people who are Felician College. I am especially grateful to every donor listed in this report. You are the “Wind Beneath My Wings” and the Heart of my Hope for Felician College.

Our very lives disclose the Presence of God. I see Him in You.

And this is the truth … pure, simple, and glorious.

Sincerely,

[Sister Theresa Mary Martin]

President
The Main College Building on the Lodi campus was renamed and dedicated to Albin D. Obal at a ceremony on December 15. A long-time friend of the Felician Sisters and staunch supporter of the College, Obal currently serves as chairman of the Felician College board of trustees.

Obal developed a special friendship with the Felician Sisters in 1928 when he was three years old. He wandered away from his home across the street from the convent in Lodi and found himself in the Sisters’ chapel, fascinated by the beautiful stained glass windows and vivid images on the altar. One of the Sisters brought him back to his worried parents, and Obal never forgot his connection with the Felician Sisters.

“Albin Obal has been part of the spirit and life of Felician College for many years, sharing his bounty with the College at a level beyond measure,” said Sister Theresa Mary Martin, President of Felician College. “He does an incredible amount of good.”

The dedication ceremony included a video presentation and a tribute in song by Irma Obal Lucca, Obal’s daughter. Family and friends delivered accolades and best wishes, including messages from New Jersey Governor Richard J. Codey, Senator Paul A. Sarlo, Assemblyman Fred Scalera, and First Lady of Poland Jolanta Kwasniewska. Mariusz Handzlick, Polish Ambassador to the United Nations, praised Obal as “a man of outstanding standards. He is equally known for his exceptional entrepreneurial and philanthropic work.”

Following in the footsteps of his father, an immigrant from Poland, Obal learned the art of brickwork and masonry. In 1947, he started his own contracting business in Saddle Brook, New Jersey. He built homes and eventually developed Midland Enterprises, a highly successful business responsible for building some of New Jersey’s most impressive housing and development projects.

Obal lends his support to many civic and inter-cultural programs. He served as chairman of the American Center of Polish Culture in Washington D.C. for more than 10 years, promoting Polish culture and a positive image of Poland in the United States. Obal has been honored on many occasions, including the Officer Cross of the Order of Merit of the Republic of Poland and the Order of Polonia Restituta for outstanding support of the American Center of Polish Culture in 2003. He was received by President Lech Walesa in the Presidential Palace in Poland and received a Doctor of Humane Letters from Felician College.

One of his favorite achievements is organizing and funding “A Summer of Dreams” vacation for disadvantaged Polish children in cooperation with the First Lady of Poland. The children, age 12 to 15, spend a week at Felician College during their tour of the United States.

Obal and his wife, Irma, have four daughters; Beverly, Charlene, Irma, and Elizabeth, who passed away in 1997; and two grandchildren, Alexandra and Bradford, who is a student at Felician College.

“Our purpose in life is to help others. We are important to each other,” Obal said as he addressed the audience. An oil painting and dedication plaque will be placed in the lobby of Obal Hall, which houses the John J. Breslin Theatre, Business Center, cafeteria, classrooms and administrative offices.

Welcome to Albin Obal Hall

HONORING OUTSTANDING SERVICE

Sister Theresa Mary Martin presented the annual President’s Medallion to three recipients during a ceremony at Christmas at Felician. The award acknowledges outstanding service and support for the mission of the College. This year’s award recipients are John J. Mazur Jr., Sister Mary Alma Pilarska (posthumously) and Sister Mary Joanne Ustaszewska.

Mazur is the president and CEO of Elegant Desserts, a company that creates gourmet cakes and pastries for fine hotels, restaurants and country clubs in the tri-state area. In addition to serving as chairman of the Felician College Council of Regents, he serves as the chairman of the board for Kearny Federal Savings Bank and a member of the board of directors of the Meadowlands Regional Chamber of Commerce.

Sister Alma and Sister Joanne were co-creators of the nursing education program at Felician College, which is celebrating its 40th anniversary this year. Their vision and commitment to nursing care continues to define how nursing education is delivered at the College. Sister Alma was a Felician Sister for 55 years, dedicating her life to care giving and the ministry of healing. In 1965, she developed the first associate degree in nursing program in the state of New Jersey and brought it to Felician College. Sister Joanne spent more than 50 years in nursing, including 15 years at Felician College and 17 years at St. Ignatius Home in Philadelphia.

In addition, Mary O’Donnell received the President’s Medallion at an earlier presentation attended by college faculty and staff. O’Donnell retired from the nursing faculty after a long and distinguished career.

A YEAR OF NOTABLE AWARDS FOR SISTER THERESA

It was a very busy year for Felician College President Theresa Mary Martin, who was honored by several organizations for her achievements in education and dedication to the community. Congratulations to Sister Theresa for the following tributes:

April 2005 – The Meadowlands Regional Chamber of Commerce named Sister “Educator of the Year” at their awards gala held at The Crown Plaza Meadowlands Hotel in Secaucus. She was honored for her exceptional contribution to education and her vital role in the expansion of the College.

May 2005 – The Institute for Nursing honored Sister Theresa at their Annual EPIC (Exceptional People Impacting the Community) Awards in May 2005. The event, held at the Sheraton Edison Hotel in Edison, recognized 10 special individuals for their contributions to their community.

June 2005 – Sister Theresa received the Courage Award from the Care Plus Foundation, a non-profit, Paramus-based organization dedicated to mental health issues. For the past few years, she has “donated” Felician College courses to clients of the Foundation.

October 2005 – Sister Theresa was honored with the Columbus Day Humanitarian Award and the opportunity to ride in the annual Columbus Day Parade in Lodi. The event was sponsored by the Chambers of Commerce from Lodi and Garfield.

FOWLER APPOINTED TO BOARD OF TRUSTEES

Felician College is pleased to announce the appointment of John C. Fowler to the Board of Trustees. He is Director of Construction for Global Gaming, LLC, with 40 years experience in commercial development and construction. He has served as a partner in Wells & Fowler and president of Arthur B. Fowler, Inc.

A graduate of Lafayette College, Fowler is currently president of the North Jersey Lafayette College Alumni Chapter. He is active in several organizations and committees, including the Hackensack University Medical Center Building Committee, Ridgewood AM Rotary Club, and Arcola Country Club in Paramus.
FELICIAN SISTERS CELEBRATE 150 YEARS

Poland was a war-torn country in 1855 when Blessed Mary Angela Truszkowska founded the Felician Sisters, a branch of the Third Order of Saint Francis. The Sisters were named after Saint Felix, a 15th century Franciscan saint who was devoted to children. In the beginning, they responded to the poor and needy of their homeland, tending to wounded soldiers, orphans, and the homeless.

Today, more than 2,000 Felician Sisters serve on four continents and 11 countries, including Estonia, Ukraine, Kenya, Mexico, the Northwest Territory and the Amazon. To honor their 150 years of service, a special Celebration of the Eucharist was held at the Sacred Heart Cathedral Basilica in Newark in November.

The Felician Sisters of the Lodi Province have been serving in the Archdiocese of Newark for 92 years, sponsoring Felician College, Immaculate Conception High School and the Promise Outreach Ministry for Youth. In addition, the Sisters sponsor the Saint Ignatius Nursing Home in Philadelphia and Our Lady of Grace Home for children in Newark, Delaware.

CELEBRATING THE FEAST OF ST. FRANCIS

Felician College celebrated the Feast of Saint Francis of Assisi and blessed each member of the Golden Falcon teams during a campus-wide liturgy of the Eucharist in the Breslin Theatre on October 3, 2005. Brother Kevin Smith, OFM, delivered the homily; Father Damian Colicchio presided; Father John O’Neill concelebrated; and Sister Mary Tarcilia and her staff prepared the setting, the programs and the music. During the same week Roberto Rossellini’s rarely run biographical film of Saint Francis of Assisi, “The Flowers of Saint Francis,” was shown in the Little Theatre and Father Damian blessed a lively gathering of animals in remembrance of the great love Saint Francis had for all of God’s creatures.

This year, the Feast of Saint Francis, Rosh Hashanah and the first day of Ramadan occurred during the same week in October. To mark this convergence of sacred days, Felician College hosted Sister Kathleen Warren, OSF, as the Feast of Saint Francis Lecturer. The topic of her address, "Daring to Cross the Threshold: Saint Francis of Assisi’s Encounter with the Sultan Malek al-Kamil as a Model for Catholic-Islamic Dialogue," is also the title of her 2003 book. The lecture was co-sponsored by the Felician Franciscan Center for Character and Collegiate Learning, the Office for Mission Integration and the Division of Arts and Sciences.

At the end of September, more than 400 students from the 2004 – 2005 Dean’s List received certificates at a special ceremony in the John J. Breslin Theatre. Dr. David G. Rice, Vice President for Academic Affairs, welcomed the students and challenged them “to use the gifts and talents that God gave you … to do good things.”

In addition, Rice presented the first Dean’s Award to Dr. Richard Burnor, associate professor of philosophy and chair of the philosophy department, for his dedication and service to Felician College. The award was a surprise to Burnor, who thought he was invited to deliver an address to the honor students. “Education has changed, but the foundation of higher education hasn’t changed,” he told the students. “Teachers are helping students to change their lives, interact with people, share values and explore knowledge. Thank you for taking your education seriously.”
FRANCISCAN PILGRIMAGE ON LEADERSHIP

Two Felician faculty members recently participated in a Franciscan leadership program designed to help lay administrative leaders clarify the vision and values that shape the philosophy of their Franciscan institutions. In October 2005, Dr. George Abaunza, assistant professor of philosophy, and David Turi, assistant professor of business, traveled to the historic city of Assisi, the city of Saint Francis and Saint Clare, to participate in the 10-day program.

Through study, conversation and prayer, program participants discussed ways to transform the vision and legacy of Saint Francis and Saint Clare into corporate action, and to integrate Franciscan values, such as peacemaking, compassion and justice, into the decision-making activities of their institutions. The pilgrimage had a profound effect on both Abaunza and Turi.

“What we ever hope to accomplish as an institution is forged by way of individual and personal transformations that take place each and every day … in how we consider and address the needs and interests of all perspectives within our institution, whether student, staff, administration or faculty,” explains Abaunza.

In addition, the program featured workshops and discussions on team building, effective leadership and the tools needed to keep an organization moving forward. “Empower others through education, not power or persuasion,” adds Turi.

“A leader must have values like that of Saint Francis – respect, integrity, stewardship and compassion. Leadership … is a life-long process.”

CHILD CARE CENTER NURTURES OUR YOUNGEST STUDENTS

Every student at Felician College is developing the necessary skills to prepare for a successful future, including the youngest students at the Felician College Child Care Center, located on the Lodi campus. Licensed by the State of New Jersey, the Child Care Center offers half- and full-day programs for children 2 to 5 years old.

“We offer our children a warm, nurturing environment to grow,” says Sr. Rose Mary Sauchelli, Director of the Center since its inception in 1987. “We offer parents affordable, quality child care and peace of mind.”

The Center is bright and cheerful, with a warm and loving staff, certified teachers, and on-site nurses. Each child is treated as an individual with distinct needs, growth stages and learning styles. Activities at the Center are planned to meet the developmental levels of children in each age group through creative exploration, instruction and activities of self-discovery.

CONVOCATION WELCOMES FRESHMAN CLASS

The administration, faculty and staff of Felician College formally welcomed the incoming freshman class and their families at the Freshman Convocation in September. Held in the John J. Breslin Theatre, the ceremony introduced the new students to the distinctive Catholic/Franciscan/Felician mission of the College.

“This is the first step of the journey to go deep within yourself to quest for the truth,” advised Sister Antonelle Chunka, Vice President for Mission Integration. “Our faculty members will be your companions on this journey.”

The Convocation speaker was Sister Ilia Dileo, OSF, Ph.D. of the Washington Theological Union. She is associate professor of Ecclesiastical History and Director of Franciscan Studies and Academic Coordinator of Spirituality Studies at WTU. Her topic was “Franciscan Selfhood, Service and Society.”

Members of the Harmonium Choral Society provided the music.
At the invitation of the Freedom Broadcasting Foundation, Dr. Gerard O’Sullivan, Dean of the Division of Arts and Sciences, and five Felician College communications majors attended a luncheon honoring veteran journalist and television anchorman Walter Cronkite in October. Cronkite was the recipient of the Freedom Broadcasting Foundation’s Lifetime Achievement Award. The event was held at New York’s Museum of Television and Radio.

Felician students Gyana Garcia, Brian Gartland, Keith Logan, Gena Russo and Sierra Siebel heard Cronkite speak in a roundtable discussion on the current state of broadcast and print journalism with his long-time friend and colleague Andy Rooney. During an earlier session on press freedom in post-Soviet Eastern Europe, they listened as CNN’s Garrick Utley chaired a session on the future of press freedom and journalistic integrity in Russia and elsewhere.

Dr. O’Sullivan called the event “a great success and an opportunity for our communications majors to meet and hear one of the most influential figures in the history of television news.” The Department of Communications, chaired by Professor Terry McAteer, specializes in preparing students for careers in digital broadcasting and long-form, investigative journalism.

The Little Theatre is playing a new role in the expanding communications program at Felician College. Located on the Rutherford campus, the theatre has been reawakened as a space for learning, performance and cinema thanks to the installation of state-of-the-art projection and sound equipment.

Under the direction of Terry McAteer, associate professor and chair of the communications department, the theatre is ready to:

• Host classes that require video or computer projection.
• Present live performances, lectures and films.
• Serve as the home for the college's new acting course that begins in the spring.

Students from the communications department will have the opportunity to share their talents at Communications Spring Festival 2006, to be held April 24 – 28 in the Little Theatre. Highlights will include the screening of student videos, readings from student screenplays, and a staged reading of a full-length play by the new acting class.

Dr. Gerard O’Sullivan, Dean of the Division of Arts and Sciences, calls the Little Theatre a “cornerstone site” for Felician’s burgeoning communications program, which will soon include the College’s radio station.

Upgrades to the Little Theatre are part of the ongoing renovations at the Rutherford campus, under the direction of Susan Chalfin, Vice President and Administrator of the Rutherford Campus.
Business students study textbooks to learn about monetary policy, interest rates, recession and inflation. Those economic terms became very real for a class of Felician students who participated in the College Fed Challenge through the Federal Reserve Bank of New York. The Challenge is intended to help students become more knowledgeable about the Fed and the decision-making process of the Federal Open Market Committee.

To prepare for the competition last November, the students in Beth Castiglia’s class worked together to research and analyze data. “I checked online news daily looking for any tidbit of information we could use to prepare,” says Izabela Bacza, a senior majoring in business administration. “I signed up for financial e-mail alerts from various Web sites. I spent at least two hours a day reading any business-related news and updates.”

The Felician team participated in a 20-minute presentation and a 15-minute question and answer session led by a panel of judges who were Fed officials, college faculty and/or economic professionals. The students were prepared to discuss current economic and financial conditions, risks that threaten the economic well-being of the country, and recommendations for the Federal Reserve.

Although the team did not place in the competition this year, the experience was invaluable to the students. “I am now addicted to checking release dates on economic indicators and reading the newspaper to see who said what,” admits senior William Baisden.

 Felician College is pleased to announce the launch of its new Master of Business Administration (MBA) program. The focus of the program is on innovation and entrepreneurship – teaching students to look for change and exploit the opportunities created by change. Felician graduates will acquire the skills to:

- Position themselves as change agents within their organizations,
- Recognize opportunities when they arise, and
- Think ethically about the ramifications of their decisions.

Whether graduates ultimately start their own businesses or pursue careers in the corporate world, the Felician MBA will equip them with analytical, creative and spiritual competencies to succeed and prosper. The two-year program offers tracks in corporate entrepreneurship and new venture creation.

“This MBA program is intended to develop the rainmakers and visionary leaders within organizations,” explains Dr. William Morgan, Dean of the Division of Business. “The knowledge economy, which has been in the forefront of the US economy, is being overshadowed by an economy based on creativity. It’s getting to the point where the bottom line of organizations is becoming more dependent on the creative talents and entrepreneurial spirit of its workforce. By using a facilitated classroom and online (hybrid) cohort learning model, this program will serve as an incubator to inspire innovative and entrepreneurial thinkers to new levels of success.”

The Franciscan heritage of Felician College embraces service and social responsibility, and the graduates of the MBA program will be equipped to forge connections between their businesses and communities with competence and integrity. Evening cohorts are offered at the Lodi campus and at Don Bosco Prep in Ramsey. For more information, please contact the Office of Adult and Graduate Admission at (201) 559-6077 or adultandgraduate@felician.edu.

Adult, accelerated business students, past and present, were treated to a “backyard” family barbecue last September at the Lodi campus. For many of the students who attended off-site classes, it was their first visit to the Felician College campus. “It was a great opportunity to connect with our adult learners to let them know more about our facilities and services,” explains Anthony Scardino, Associate Dean of the Business Division. More than 250 people attended the barbecue that featured a balloon clown, D.J. and face painting. Felician’s accelerated business degree programs have been in existence for six years, offering associate and bachelor business degrees on-campus and numerous off-campus corporate locations.
The transition from nursing student to professional registered staff nurse will be much easier for Felician College graduates with the introduction of a new clinical residency course. This innovative course is offered in the final semester of the four-year baccalaureate nursing program, and the first class of clinical nurse residents are currently working at Saint Barnabas Medical Center in Livingston, New Jersey.

Senior nursing students choose a clinical area of specialization and spend one day a week working a 13-hour shift under the supervision of an RN clinical preceptor at Saint Barnabas. “This is as close to realistic as we can make it for the students,” says Elizabeth Zweighaft, Associate Dean and Chair of the Generic Bachelor of Science in Nursing (BSN) program.

“It took more than two years to develop this clinical course in partnership with Saint Barnabas,” adds Dr. Muriel Shore, Dean of Nursing. “This partnership affords our nursing students a supportive environment where excellence and quality care is the hallmark.”

Faculty members Dr. Patricia O’Brien-Barry and Professor Susan Schwade are coordinating the course with Dr. Mary Beth Russell, Director of Nursing Education and Research at Saint Barnabas.

NEW CLINICAL NURSE RESIDENCY COURSE

The business of health care

Robert Shore, a professor in the Division of Business, has a unique group of students in one of his business classes – they are all nurses in the fast-track RN to BSN program. The course, Advanced Business Dimensions of Health Care, is a graduate-level course that focuses on the application of business and management practices in a variety of health care settings.

“We incorporate a number of graduate-level management concepts that are relevant to mid- and senior-level positions, with an emphasis on financial issues,” says Shore. “Health care is a business, and nursing students need an understanding of these concepts to move forward.”

To learn about various management practices and financial plans, students choose an existing health care facility to study. They retrieve information about the organization’s mission, licensing, budget, staffing, scheduling, clients, profitability indicators and how quality is measured. In another class project, students assume the role of a manager/administrator who must develop a start-up business plan and budget for a new specialized patient-service unit scheduled to open in nine months.

A course in the fundamentals of business management is provided as a prerequisite and covers various issues such as planning, budgeting and budget monitoring.
Dr. Donna Barron-Baker, Dean of the Division of Education, is pleased to announce the appointment of three associate deans in teacher education: Dr. Rosemarie (Maggie) Liebman, Dr. Julie Norflus-Good, and Professor Mary Anne Witowski. “The combined credentials, experience and dedication of these three professionals provide the quality leadership that supports the excellence in the Teacher Education program at Felician College,” says Barron-Baker.

Dr. Rosemarie (Maggie) Liebman is a published author whose career in public education includes classroom teaching at the secondary level, mathematics and chemistry, and serving as director of curriculum for a large public school system. Liebman holds a Bachelor of Arts degree from Caldwell College, a Master of Arts degree from Montclair State University, and a doctorate in educational Administration from Seton Hall University. She teaches in the graduate and undergraduate program, specializing in curriculum and reflective practice.

Dr. Julie Norflus-Good has served as a teacher, language coordinator, teacher trainer, director of pupil personnel services, director of a child study team, consultant, and director of professional development for several publishing companies. She received her bachelor’s degree from Hunter College, a master's degree in special education and a master's degree in educational administration from Columbia University Teachers College, and a doctoral degree in educational administration from Columbia University Teachers College. Norflus-Good teaches in the “Teacher as Leader” Master of Arts degree program in education, preparing students to become outstanding educators in elementary education, special education or supervision.

Professor Mary Anne Witowski worked for more than 22 years in the New York Public School System, teaching pre-kindergarten through sixth grade. In addition, she held classroom, resource room and administrative positions in parochial and public school settings. With her expertise in urban education, she developed programs in early childhood education and elementary education for undergraduate and graduate students.

The Division of Teacher Education is in the process of seeking national accreditation from the Teacher Education Accreditation Council (TEAC), a nonprofit organization dedicated to improving academic degree programs for professional educators. TEAC’s goal is to support the preparation of qualified professional educators.

Undergraduate/Graduate Teacher Education Programs

The Division of Education, in light of the Franciscan mission, seeks to foster competent, caring and compassionate educators to serve a diverse population by promoting a collaborative spirit, encouraging self-reflection and emphasizing life-long learning.

The Division of Education strives to prepare teachers who:

- Know and understand the New Jersey Professional Teaching Standards;
- Value and are committed to the tenets of these standards; and
- Actively engage in applying the intent of the standards within their learning communities.

Claims:

The faculty members of Felician College’s Division of Teacher Education (FCDTE) make the following claims about completers of the FCDTE program:

1. In addition to a liberal arts foundation, we believe our graduates understand the central concepts, tools of inquiry and structure of their endorsement area while meeting New Jersey licensure requirements.

2. We believe our graduates have acquired the pedagogical skills to accommodate individual needs and differences in abilities and learning styles, and to demonstrate application of these skills to life-long learning.

3. We believe our graduates have acquired the ability to make use of varied instructional strategies including technology and the arts while recognizing and respecting the dignity, diversity and worth of all children.

U.N. Student Interns Face World Issues

A summer internship at the United Nations was a dream come true for three Felician College students, who had the opportunity to participate in roundtable discussions, briefings, and conferences with representatives from around the world in preparation for the largest gathering of global leaders at the 2005 World Summit at the United Nations in September.

Their internship culminated with participation in the 58th Annual Conference for DPI/NGOs (Department of Public Information/Non-Governmental Organizations), held one week before the World Summit meeting and opening of the General Assembly. More than 2,000 NGOs from 80 countries voiced their views on implementation of the Millennium Development Goals, peace and security, human rights, and strengthening the United Nations. Speakers included Shirin Ebadi, 2003 Nobel Peace Prize winner.

Vanessa D’Amato, Mika Goto, and Christian Mathews were the only NGO undergraduate interns from New Jersey. Their internship was a partnership between Felician College and NGO member Caritas Internationalis, a confederation of 162 Catholic relief, development, and social service organizations working in more than 200 countries. To be selected for the internship, the students were interviewed by Felician faculty members and Joseph Donnelly, the Caritas Internationalis delegate to the U.N.

During the summer, the students gained valuable insight into the goals of the U.N., the interaction of civil society with the U.N., and the role of faith-based NGOs. They attended interactive forums to discuss the progress of the implementation of the Millennium Development Goals including the efforts to eradicate poverty and promote human rights.

“This experience ties directly to the mission of Felician College - to prepare students to meet the challenges of the new century with informed minds and understanding hearts,” explains Dr. Mary E. Norton, Associate Dean of Nursing, member of the Executive Committee of the NGO/DPI and delegate from the International Council of Nurses to the U.N. “This learning experience could not be duplicated in the classroom.” A committee of faculty members worked for months to develop the criteria and objectives of the internship program, including Dr. Norton, Dr. Gerard O’Sullivan, Dean of Arts and Sciences; Dr. Maria Vecchio, director of the honors program; and Dr. Kevin Smith, OSF, associate professor of religious studies.

Global Ties in Nursing Education

The nursing division at Felician College is making a difference in the world! With the help of nursing faculty from Felician and four other schools, the University of Jordan (UJ) inaugurated the first Ph.D. nursing program in that country last November. Dr. Mary Norton, Associate Dean of Felician’s nursing division, is lending her expertise in the area of nursing education to assist with UJ’s doctoral program. In 1987, she developed their first graduate nursing program as a Fulbright Scholar to Jordan.

“How we stand in solidarity and joy, strengthening the ties of friendship, mutual respect and collegial relations,” said Dr. Norton, who spoke at a special ceremony in Amman to mark the occasion. The ceremony, held under the patronage of Her Royal Highness Princess Muna Al Hussein, was attended by members of the royal family, government ministers, the president of UJ, professors and administrators.

One of the key components of the doctoral nursing program at UJ is its global coordination with Felician College, Case Western University, Charles Darwin University in Australia, British Columbia University in Canada, and Glasgow Caledonian University in the United Kingdom. Felician will participate in faculty and student exchanges with UJ as part of the agreement.
Jackie Bakal, assistant professor of developmental mathematics, published an article entitled “Are you paying too much for gasoline?” in the “Media Clips” section of the November 2005 issue of Mathematics Teacher.

Ard Berge, assistant professor of fine arts, exhibited a drawing entitled “Summit (Thomas Jefferson and Nelson Mandela)” in the Director’s Choice show at Art First Gallery in London, England. He also had a painting selected as the commercial and brand image for the L’Osteria di Giovanni in Florence, Italy – the latest venture from the renowned restaurant family il Latini.

Dr. Richard Burnor, chairperson and associate professor of philosophy, and Dr. Yvonne Raley, assistant professor of philosophy, were awarded a joint 2005 Summer Research Stipend (Felician College) to further supplement and revise their CO 250, Applied Ethical Reasoning textbook. They have been invited by Wadsworth and Prentice Hall to submit the manuscript for publication consideration.

Dr. Anthony Demarest, assistant professor of English, will have his short story, “Penmanship” published in Flashfiction. Four poems – “Ariadne,” “Helen,” “Cassandra,” and “Leaf Burning” – were published in the November issue of Noneuclideancafe.

Dr. Dolores Henchy, professor and chair of online graduate programs in religious education, has been invited to present on Felician’s distinctive online Master of Arts in Religious Education to the Diocese of Portland, Maine. She co-chaired the New Jersey Consortium of Graduate Programs in Theology and Ministry’s Fourth Bi-Annual Symposium on “The Laity: Revitalizing a Forgotten Charm,” held at the College of St. Elizabeth in October.

Robert Hillenbrand, instructor, Division of Teacher Education, has been selected by Allyn/Bacon publishers to review the text “Teaching Today’s Health by Ansbaugh” (2004), used in college health classes nationwide. Hillenbrand has been invited by Harcourt Brace to submit a textbook proposal concerning inter-generational technology literacy. In addition, he wrote and secured Felician College’s $130,000 Technology Triads teacher preparation grant. Hillenbrand has been asked to serve as the professional evaluator for the New Jersey After Three and 21 Century Community Learning Centers grant for the Newark Public Schools.

Dr. Mara Kelly-Zukowski, chairperson and associate professor of religious studies, conducted an October workshop for the Diocese of Metuchen’s Adult Faith Formation program titled, “Fun Facts to Know and Tell about the Bible,” held at the St. John Neumann Pastoral Center in Piscataway, New Jersey.

Dr. Julie Norflus-Good, associate dean of teacher education, presented a workshop, “Different Strokes For Different Folks – Differentiating Math Instruction,” at the Association of Mathematical Teachers of New Jersey in October. In November, she presented “Different Strokes for Different Folks – Differentiating Instruction” in reading and writing skills to the New Jersey Educational Association Conference.

Fr. John O’Neill, associate professor of religious studies, taught a graduate and post-graduate course at St. Joseph’s Seminary in Yonkers on “The Problem of God.”

Dr. Gerard O’Sullivan, Dean of Arts and Sciences, attended a workshop for new chairs and evaluators at the Middle States Commission on Higher Education’s meeting in October. He will serve as a member of the evaluation team for the Middle States re-accreditation self-study of Saint Francis University of Loreto, Pennsylvania in 2006.

Dr. Gina Robertiello, associate professor of history and social sciences, did a presentation at Seton Hall University entitled “Domestic Violence and the College Student” in October. In addition, she had two presentations accepted for the National Academy of Criminal Justice Sciences Conference in March 2006. The two papers are entitled, “The Criminal Justice Department and the Career Center: An Important Relationship” and “A National Study of Catholic Colleges and Universities with a Criminal Justice Program”. Robertiello had two articles – “Stalking” and “Police Powers” – included in the book Criminal Justice, published under Salem Press.

Elizabeth Uptegrove, assistant professor of mathematics, presented a paper at the fall conference of the North American chapter of the International Group for the Psychology of Mathematics Education entitled “Students Building Mathematical Ideas Through Communication.”

Dr. Maria Vecchio, associate professor of history and social sciences, will serve on the Faculty Council of the Harvard University Model United Nations for academic year 2005-2006 at the invitation of the College Division’s charge d’affairs.
MEN’S CROSS-COUNTRY

The 2005 men’s cross-country team defended their 2004 CACC title with solid effort. They won two meets during the regular season – the Philadelphia Metro Invitational in September and the William Paterson University Invitational in October. After a solid regular season, the team was primed for the CACC Championship Meet at Belmont Plateau in Philadelphia. With strong performances from sophomores Paul Chegwidden and Alex Wright, Felician captured back-to-back titles and its fourth cross-country championship in school history. For their efforts, Chegwidden and Wright were named to the All-Conference Team and head coach John Brennan was named CACC Coach of the Year for the second consecutive season.

WOMEN’S CROSS-COUNTRY

The women’s cross-country team had its best season in the history of the program. The team had never finished higher than third place in any entered meet in the program’s history. All that changed in October at the NJIAAW meet at William Paterson University. The Lady Golden Falcons defeated all challengers to win its first-ever title. The team followed up the next week with a solid second-place finish at the Monmouth University Invitational. Those two performances set the stage for the CACC Championship Meet in October in Philadelphia. In the closest finish in conference history, the Lady Golden Falcons finished in second place to University of Sciences by two points. Freshman Amanda Scibetta and sophomore Melissa Barraquiero each ran strong races and were named to the All-Conference Team.

WOMEN’S VOLLEYBALL

Second-year head coach Nichole Jones and the women’s volleyball team were on a mission in 2005–win the first match in the program’s two-year history! The team played well in its first 12 winless matches. History was made on September 29 when the Lady Golden Falcons defeated Holy Family University 3-0.

Sophomore outside hitter Danielle Norman led in most offensive categories and was an honorable mention recipient for CACC Player of the Week honors twice during the season. The squad received praise from coaches and players throughout the conference for their hard work and continued improvement. With the first win under their belts and strong efforts from the entire team, the future is bright for Golden Falcons volleyball.
WOMEN’S SOCCER

The women’s soccer team suffered through a year where anything that could go wrong, did go wrong! There were many injuries that left the team to play at times with fewer than 11 players. Head Coach Erin Fitzgerald and her squad persevered to defeat last season’s CACC Tournament runner-up Wilmington College, and had a draw with Division I Delaware State University.

The Lady Golden Falcons opened their 2005 campaign with an aggressive out-of-conference schedule. Playing against East Stroudsburg, Molloy College and Southern Connecticut State University, the team struggled out of the gate but did play a solid match against Southern Connecticut. With the non-conference games under their belt, the team set its sights on CACC opponents. The ladies were competitive in every conference game they played with a terrific win on the road against Wilmington. The team played a great match versus eventual CACC Tournament runner-up Goldey-Beacom College in October. With the match tied at one with less than two minutes remaining, the Lightning of Goldey-Beacom scored to earn the victory.

MEN’S SOCCER

The 2005 Golden Falcons team was plagued by injuries, starting the season with 24 players and finishing with 16 players. The team lost five of its first seven games only to finish the year winning seven of their last 11. They finished in third place in the CACC, earning a quarterfinal-round match of the CACC Men’s Soccer Tournament with sixth-seeded Wilmington College. Junior forward Mike Furino scored in the second minute in overtime to give the Golden Falcons a 2-1-overtime win. That victory earned the team the right to play Caldwell College in the tournament’s semi-final round. This match saw two teams play about as hard as two teams can play. The Cougars of Caldwell scored in the seventh minute of overtime to win by a score of 2-1, ending Felician’s season. The team’s final record was seven wins, nine losses, and two ties.

Senior goalkeeper Anthony Quarino was named to the All-CACC First Team with freshman defender Lukasz Fraczek named to the Second Team. Fraczek and Furino were each named to the CACC All-Tournament Team.
Ruth Wittmann-Price is an assistant professor at DeSales University in Pennsylvania. She graduated with a BSN and went on to receive a MSN from Columbia University.

Sister Lois Marie Parente, a Felician Sister of the Immaculate Conception Province in Lodi, celebrated her silver jubilee of religious life during a liturgy held on June 11. Sister Lois is an assistant to the treasurer of the Sisters of Saint Joseph of Peace in Englewood Cliffs, and resides in Saint Francis De Sales Convent in Lodi.

Holly Anne Hansen was awarded a doctor of veterinary medicine degree at commencement of Tufts School of Veterinary Medicine in May. She graduated from Felician College with a B.A. in biology, and resides in Secaucus.

Yesenia Arce became engaged to Russell Berta this past summer. She received a B.A. from Felician College and is pursuing her master’s degree in counseling at Montclair State University. Arce is employed by Passaic County Technical Institute in Wayne, and her fiancé is a junior accountant at Karl’s Appliance Inc.

Noelle Kratz married Alfonso Del Angel on January 30, 2005. A reception was held at the Graycliff in Moonachie. She received a B.A. from Felician College and works for the East Rutherford Board of Education. Her husband is employed by Caffe Capri in East Rutherford.

Beau Buraus is a recently appointed patrolman in Hawthorne. His father pinned on his badge at a ceremony in August. Buraus received a B.A. in sociology, serving as vice president of Student Government in 2003 and named Student of the Year in 2004. He entered the Passaic County Police Academy for a 22-week session.

Loredana DeMarco recently became engaged to Marc Davis. She received a degree in psychology and psychiatric rehabilitation. A September 2006 wedding is planned.

Sydney Kucan has joined the staff at Church of St. James of the Marches in Totowa as the Director of Religious Education. In addition to being a Lector, she has taught religion classes in two parishes in the Archdiocese of Newark and served as a Eucharistic Minister for twenty years. Kucan received a B.A. in religious studies.

Meghan Kelly received the New Jersey Department of Education Commissioner’s Distinguished Teacher Candidate award. Kelly received her Teacher Education Certification from Felician College. She started teaching in December at Corpus Christi School where her mother has been teaching for many years.

Class agents and secretaries will help the Alumni Association to:

FESTIVAL 2005
The Rutherford campus was bustling on Sunday, October 16, as the College welcomed community, alumni, and prospective students to Festival 2005. The Quad was filled with craft and merchandise vendors, and children had plenty of activities – face painting, boardwalk games, rock climbing, karate demonstrations, and a story hour. In the afternoon, alumni gathered in the Biergarten for an Oktoberfest celebration, with German-style food and microbrews from Cricket Hill Brewery.

CAREER SERVICES
OPEN TO ALUMS
The Career Services Center at Felician College is available to both students and alumni to help develop employment and career strategies. Whether you are searching for a new job, contemplating graduate school or looking to change careers, the Center offers a variety of career services for success:

- Individual career counseling
- Career-related workshops
- Resource library
- Assistance with resume writing and interview skills

Your participation in a Leadership Giving Club includes various membership benefits. You will be eligible to receive some or all of the following benefits: Pocket calendar with Felician insignia, library privileges, name plate displayed in the College’s Little Theatre, Fitness Center privileges, invitation to Christmas at Felician brunch, invitation to campus guest speaker events and post-talk receptions, Felician College bookstore discounts, invitation to a special donor recognition reception hosted by the President, complimentary tickets to campus theatre events with post-performance reception, complimentary tickets to athletic events and post-game receptions, special e-mail communications, reports, updates and publications.

Extra-Strength Dollars through Matching-Gift Companies

Matching-gift companies are local and national corporations who match the contributions their employees make to higher education. If you are employed by a matching-gift company, your gift to Felician College could be doubled or even tripled. Check with your Human Resources office to see if your contribution is eligible for a match.

For more information, please contact the Director of Annual Giving at (201) 559-3312. We hope you will join our growing family of generous supporters this year by sending your contribution in the enclosed postage-paid envelope.

PLONSKI SCHOLARSHIP GIFT

Joseph and Mildred Plonski of Jersey City dedicated their lives to helping those in need, especially Polish people immigrating to this country. They were very active in Polish organizations and veteran affairs, helping Polish immigrants to settle and find jobs. A real estate appraiser, Joseph Plonski owned the Plonski Agency in Jersey City. He served in the Army during World War II and in the Peace Corps in South America.

With a strong belief in education, the Plonskis willed most of their estate to Felician College. In the summer of 2005, the College received a gift of $2.6 million for endowed scholarships from the Plonski estate. Joseph Plonski died in 1999 and Mildred Plonski passed away in 2004, leaving an enduring source of scholarship funds for future generations of Felician College students.
NEW LEADERSHIP IN INSTITUTIONAL ADVANCEMENT

Celeste A. Oranchak has been appointed Vice President for Institutional Advancement, overseeing the offices of development, public relations and alumni relations. She brings more than 20 years of senior-level executive experience in not-for-profit fund raising and development to the position. Prior to coming to Felician College, Oranchak was vice president at Arthur B. Fowler, Inc. In addition, she served as development officer for the Stevens Institute of Technology in Hoboken and director of development at the John Harms Center for the Arts in Englewood.

Oranchak received her Bachelor of Science and Master of Public Administration degrees from New York University. She is a member of the Association of Fund Raising Professionals and is listed in Who’s Who Among American Women.

COUNCIL OF REGENTS-NEW LEADERSHIP AND MEMBERS

John J. Mazur Jr. was recently appointed chairman of the Felician College Council of Regents. He is the president and CEO of Elegant Desserts. Ellen V. Kelly of Quest Capital Strategies Inc. will serve as vice chairman. Ardent supporters of the College, both Mazur and Kelly have received the President’s Medallion from Sister Theresa.

Three new members have been nominated and approved by the Council – Joseph Cinelli, Maria Romano and Timothy F. Stafford, Esq. Cinelli is president and owner of Cinelli Iron and Metal Company, Inc. in Hackensack and an active supporter of local organizations and clubs. Romano is a vice president and regional manager at The Provident Bank, and an active board member of several professional and civic organizations. Stafford is the Borough Administrator for Rutherford. He is an adjunct professor at Essex Community College, and serves as Commissioner of the South Bergen Joint Insurance Fund and Commissioner of the Bergen Municipal Employee Benefits Fund.

GOLF CLASSIC DRIVES IN SCHOLARSHIP FUNDS

The 20th Annual Felician College Golf Classic was a huge success thanks to all the sponsors and golfers who participated in the September event at Arcola Country Club in Paramus. The Classic raised $128,000 to provide financial assistance for deserving students at Felician College through the Student Scholarship Fund. Ellen V. Kelly and Terrence Murphy served as co-chairpersons of the event and The Provident Bank was the principal sponsor.

MEET OUR FOOD SCHOLARSHIP RECIPIENT

A full-time student majoring in elementary education, Patricia Gallegos still finds the time and energy each week to work 20 hours at the West End Shop Rite in Rutherford, attend mandatory cheerleading practices and games at Felician and, of course, study for her classes! She is the 2005 recipient of the four-year, full-tuition New Jersey Food Council Scholarship at Felician College.

An avid reader, Gallegos says she hopes to “travel to Third World countries that can’t send their children to school … and teach them how to read and possibly set up a library where children can fill their imaginations.” She is the daughter of Kelly and Matthew Gallegos of Rutherford.

This competitive award is open to any employee of the food industry or member of an employee’s immediate family. New Jersey and out-of-state employees are eligible. For more information, please contact Lori Walker at (201) 559-3314.

Leadership Giving at Felician College

Giving at the leadership level demonstrates a special commitment to the continued growth and success of Felician College. Leadership gifts help make it possible for the College to increase the number of state-of-the-art classrooms, laboratories and other academic facilities. Felician relies on these very special gifts to strengthen our mission to place “Students First”. We gratefully acknowledge the following alumni, parents and friends so committed to enhancing the value of a Felician education.

Alumni Annual Fund

Felician College sincerely thanks the many alumni who so thoughtfully contribute to the Annual Fund each year. Unrestricted and restricted gifts to the Annual Fund make it possible for Felician College to provide high quality academic programs, enhance distance learning programs and attract faculty members committed to academic excellence in the Felician/Franciscan tradition. We are so very grateful to the following alumni for their financial support and expression of a deep appreciation for their Felician education.

Friends

Felician College is very fortunate to have the support of individuals committed to our mission and standards. These important friends express their confidence in Felician by supporting the College through the Annual Fund each year. During fiscal year 2004-2005, the College received $2,249,896 in contributions from friends. We extend our sincere appreciation to the following friends for their continued support.

Through matching gifts, alumni, parents and friends have an opportunity to double or even triple their contributions to the College. More than 1000 companies throughout the United States and Canada participate in the matching gift program. Our sincere thanks to the following corporations for their support.*

Air Products & Chemicals, Inc.
BD Matching Gift Program
Alliance Capital
ITT Industries, Inc.
Altria Group, Inc.
The Prudential Foundation

This listing of corporate matching gifts includes all those received by Felician College between July 1, 2004 and June 30, 2005. It is possible that an individual may have applied for a matching gift through their employer during 2004-2005, but the company’s gift was not forwarded to Felician prior to the end of our fiscal year. Those contributions will be noted in the 2005-2006 report.

The growing number of grants received from local and national foundations enhance the Felician College Scholarship Fund, support academic programs and make facility improvements possible. During fiscal year 2004-2005, the College received $122,150 in foundation support. We thank the following foundations for their generosity, trust in our mission, and dedicated commitment to the future success of Felician College.

C.R. Bard Foundation Inc.
The Prudential Foundation
Upsala College Foundation
Warwick Savings Bank
Foundation for Free Enterprise
Schering-Plough Foundation
The UPS Foundation
The Provident Bank Foundation
Switzer Foundation
Walter & Louise Sutcliffe Foundation
We greatly appreciate the many alumni, individuals, corporations and local businesses who contribute goods and services and other tangible items to Felician College each year. These goods and services come to us as auction items for our Magic Moments Student Scholarship Benefit, Annual Golf Classic and Founder's Day Dinner, and as individual items such as computers and classroom equipment donated to various Felician College departments and divisions. We are so thankful to the following donors for their very generous in-kind contributions.

PLANNED GIVING

Felician College would like to express sincere appreciation for the foresight and generosity of its alumni and friends who so thoughtfully explore planned giving opportunities. Through bequests or life income plans, donors have options to transfer assets to the College in several ways so as not to deprive family members of necessary resources and funds.

Ms. Florence Adler  Mr. Joseph F. Kennedy  Mr. Frank Krudys  Mrs. Bertha Krudys

ENDOWED SCHOLARSHIPS

Endowed scholarships enable individual students to truly reach their highest potential personally, professionally and academically at Felician College. Students benefiting from these scholarship gifts are granted awards based on both merit and need. The following are gratefully acknowledged for their very important and generous commitment to Felician College students.

Ms. Florence Adler  Gari D. Carabin, M.D., L.L.C.  Mr. Kenneth Garcia  Mr. Joseph A. Storno

Estate of Joseph A. Plonski  The Provident Bank Foundation  Mr. John J. Lombardi

2004 INDEPENDENT COLLEGE FUND OF NEW JERSEY CONTRIBUTORS

Felician College continues to benefit from generous corporate and foundation support given through the Independent College Fund of New Jersey. Begun in 1953, the Fund makes a single, united annual request to corporations and foundations on behalf of the 14 member colleges. For 51 years, the Fund has continued to secure corporate financial support for the State’s independent colleges and to promote a greater understanding of the importance of maintaining the opportunity for choice between public and private education.

The Independent College Fund of New Jersey represents all of the state’s fully accredited, privately controlled colleges and universities, except those that are engaged primarily in religious studies.

The following donors contributed to the Fund in calendar year 2004. Most gifts are allocated by formula although a number are designated to specific institutions. Support in 2004 for independent higher education in New Jersey through the Fund totaled $1,586,675.82.

Do you remember sand sharks? Share your most memorable moment from the science lab – experiments gone wrong or unforgettable dissections. We’d like to hear from you if you recognize yourself in this 1971 yearbook photo.

Send responses to Focus on Felician, Felician College, Office of Institutional Advancement, 223 Montross Avenue, Rutherford, NJ, 07070, or e-mail lynchb@felician.edu.

We heard from Doris Sipos, who recognized herself (lower left corner) in the photo from our last issue. “When Bob Hope arrived on campus, he entered through the student lounge and was greeted by … students singing “Consider Yourself at Home” … led by Sister Theresa. The students presented him with a painting of the Marine landing at Iwo Jima and had Bob Hope’s face painted on one of the Marines as a tribute to the time he spent entertaining the troops.”
